Latin Squares

210 practice questions

70 easy • 70 moderate • 70 high

A focused workbook in the Latin-square question format of your uploaded dMAT preparation guide.

Level	Source label	Exercises	Question pages
Easy	low	1-70	4-38
Moderate	medium	71-140	39-73
High	high	141-210	74-108

Included after the questions

Quick answer keys: pages 109-111.
Verified deduction paths: from page 112.
The worked solutions include small labelled grids so you can follow each step without returning to the question page.

Correctness checks

Every grid has exactly one valid full completion. Two independent exhaustive checks agree on all 210 solutions, and every step in each displayed deduction path has been replayed and verified. The letter in the shaded cell is therefore uniquely determined.

All questions are newly generated. The set contains 210 structurally different puzzles, with target positions spread across the grid. It does not repeat the six sample exercises.

Independent practice material. Difficulty labels describe the intended practice progression; they are not official calibrated dMAT ratings.

Instructions and fast logic

Core Module	Latin Squares

The rules are the same as in your source

• Each exercise contains a 5 × 5 grid. Use only A, B, C, D and E.

• Each letter appears exactly once in every row and exactly once in every column.

• Determine the letter in the shaded cell marked ?. You do not have to fill the entire grid.

• There are no diagonal rules, no smaller-box rules and no requirement that letters appear in alphabetical order.

• Record your final answer beside the exercise number. The exercise pages keep the same plain grid format as the guide; they contain no hints or solution labels.

Use these checks in this order

1. Check the target. Which letters are missing from its row? Which are missing from its column? If only one letter belongs to both lists, you have the answer.

2. Find a forced cell. Look for a nearly complete row or column. A blank cell can contain only a letter absent from both its row and its column.

3. Find a letter with one possible position. Choose a missing letter in a row, then check the intersecting columns. If every blank except one is blocked, that remaining cell must contain the letter. The same reasoning works down a column.

4. Carry the deduction across. A newly fixed letter may settle another cell in the same row or column. Follow those links back to the shaded cell.

5. Stop when ? is forced. Completing unrelated cells takes time. The solutions show a verified route to the target, not a requirement to finish every blank.

How to read the worked solutions

The solution grids use the source convention: columns α, β, γ, δ, ε from left to right and rows 1-5 from top to bottom. Thus γ4 is column 3, row 4. Grey marks the target; magenta letters are the deductions used in the accompanying route.

“Row allows {A, C}; column allows {C, E}” means C is their only common candidate. In a one-position step, the indicated letter fits only the named cell in that row or column.

Practice for speed

First make your reasoning reliable, then shorten the time. Start with ten-question blocks. Check answers only after a block, identify the missed deduction, and reattempt errors later with the solutions hidden.

For initial learning you may write candidate letters. For mental practice, avoid scratch notes and retain only the few deductions leading toward ?. The source specifies 20 Latin-square tasks in 25 minutes: an average of 75 seconds per task.

Track both accuracy and elapsed time. A lower time is progress only when accuracy is maintained. The harder practice blocks intentionally need longer reasoning chains, so compare repeat attempts at the same level.

Block	Easy: score /10; time	Moderate: score /10; time	High: score /10; time
1	1-10: ____ ; ____	71-80: ____ ; ____	141-150: ____ ; ____
2	11-20: ____ ; ____	81-90: ____ ; ____	151-160: ____ ; ____
3	21-30: ____ ; ____	91-100: ____ ; ____	161-170: ____ ; ____
4	31-40: ____ ; ____	101-110: ____ ; ____	171-180: ____ ; ____
5	41-50: ____ ; ____	111-120: ____ ; ____	181-190: ____ ; ____
6	51-60: ____ ; ____	121-130: ____ ; ____	191-200: ____ ; ____
7	61-70: ____ ; ____	131-140: ____ ; ____	201-210: ____ ; ____

After each block, record the error type

- Missed a letter already present.
- Missed a letter with only one possible position.
- Lost a previously deduced value.
- Solved unnecessary cells before returning to the target.
- Guessed without checking the row and column.
